GRANITE IS GREAT!

Our goal is to earn your trust as we enhance your lifestyle...at home or at work. Our reputation has been achieved by doing whatever is necessary to satisfy every customer...every time. We have many years of experience in commercial as well as residential granite installations. And, our complete line of effective maintenance products offers you proven protection for your investments in the AGM installations you choose for your home or business.

The AGM Management Team attends stone trade shows and seminars every year in order to remain current in regard to all of the latest granite fabrication and installation technologies. We also investigate new products and technologies so that we are able to guide customers through the decision-making process no matter what their alternatives and budgets might be. You'll see the results of these efforts at the AGM showroom.

When it comes to granite products, we are uniquely qualified to do the complete job in-house, from templating and measuring to fabrication, installation, sealing, and maintenance. At AGM, we pursue quality and total customer satisfaction relentlessly and without compromise. We don't attempt to be the cheapest. Instead, our goal is always to offer the best overall value. We intend to earn your business every time you give us the opportunity. AGM purchases granite slabs by the truckload to help us keep customers' costs down. Plus, we offer a complete "builder's choice" kitchen installation and a "custom cut" kitchen installation for your "side-by-side" comparisons in our recently expanded showroom. Additionally, the wide range of new and innovative products you'll find here will offer you solutions that work no matter what your projects might be - kitchen, bath, home, hospitality, institutional, or workspace of any kind. We've done them all!

Our staff members are also highly trained in the latest fabrication, installation, maintenance and repair techniques associated with our expanding product lines. The most compelling advantage we offer you is authoritative guidance based upon comprehensive experience. Our president and founder has over 40 years in this industry.

As a result, your comfort level will always remain high no matter which AGM products and services you select.

We invite you to "visit our family and enjoy your showroom" soon and often.
